CRIPPLE BRUTALLY MURDERED BY YOUTH POLICE ARE SEEKING

Killing Ends Girl's First and Last Romance,
Is Belief

New York, Sept. 14.—Catherine Gore, pretty little cripple girl, lies murdered today following her first and last romance. Detectives were searching today for the youth last seen with the twenty-four year old girl before she was attacked and brutally slain on the rear porch of her east side home.

Dr. Benjamin Schwartz, chief medical examiner, who performed an autopsy, will make a chemical analysis today to determine if the girl was administered "knockout" drops.

Catherine, in her holiday best, went for a walk with her girl friend, Rose Apuzzo. Catherine hobbled along with difficulty, having stepped out of a wheel chair but a month after suffering a stroke of paralysis.

At Columbus Circle, ringed with bright lights, the two girls met two dapper youths, who took them for a taxi ride. Later Catherine and her boy "friend" sat on the steps of her home, where she lived with her sister, Mrs. John Shehey. The crippled girl was an orphan.

That was the last anybody saw Catherine alive. Her body was found huddled on the back porch of the house Sunday morning. Catherine's Sunday black taffeta dress was torn in many places. One of her shoes was found in the front vestibule. The eighty-five pound cripple girl had fought desperately for her honor, police said.

"The man who killed her probably struck her on the head," said Dr. Schwartz. "He probably knocked her unconscious after first beating her. There are two deep scratches on the neck. It was a deliberate and brutal crime."

GIANTS TO CONDUCT BASEBALL SCHOOL

New York, Sept. 14.—Being resigned to their fate as the 1925 season is concerned, the New York Giants will attempt an innovation in major league baseball strategy, beginning today. They will open an autumn school for baseball fledglings and daily sessions will be held at the Polo grounds. It was reported that John McGraw, instead of accompanying the Giants on their last western trip, would take direct charge of the school.

The early class will be composed of John Wisner and Walter Huntzinger, relief pitchers with the club this year. Pip Kohler and Arthur Crump, who made the spring training trip to Sarasota; outfielder Earl Webb, obtained from Toledo; Catchers Ott and Austin and Pitcher Gus Lindberg.

EMPTY BOAT CLUE TO TWO DROWNINGS

New York, Sept. 14.—An empty row boat washed ashore today was the only clue to an unknown man and woman drowned in the East river, at the foot of St. Lawrence avenue, the Bronx, when a heavy wind and rain-storm overturned their boat. Police continued to search unsuccessfully for their bodies.

As the boat overturned fifty feet from shore, the man and woman shrieked for help as they struggled in the choppy waters. They sank before aid could reach them.

CONCEALS CASH AND THEN HANGS HIMSELF

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 14.—After the body of William Gillett, of Majorsville, aged farmer, was found in the orchard, hanging to a tree, authorities made a search of his home near Majorsville, according to word received today and found concealed about it several thousand dollars. It was the proceeds of the sale of his farm.

COOLER WEATHER MAKES ITSELF FELT

Washington, Sept. 14.—Highest temperatures yesterday:
Baltimore 88; Chicago 68; Cincinnati 80; Detroit 68; El Paso 90; Galveston 88; Indianapolis 78; Louisville 84; New York 84; Omaha 76; Philadelphia 92; Phoenix 94; Pittsburgh 80.

FIND BODY IN RIVER

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 14.—Floating in the river above the city last night, the body of Ivan Evans, missing since last Friday from his home in Martins Ferry, was found by government lock employees. It is believed he ended his own life, as there are no foul play indications.

Missing Naval Airmen Safe

"Cold Nerve" Rodgers and crew of four men of the naval plane PN-9 No. 1, adrift ten days in the Pacific, are now safe at Honolulu. They were picked up off the Island of Kauai by the submarine R-4, none the worse for their wild adventure on the waves of the ocean.

COUPLE DROWNED ALONG STREET WHEN RAIN FLOODS DEEP RAVINE

Man and Woman Leaving Stalled Auto Fail to See Gully
—Rain Brings Relief To Ohio But Causes
Shipping Damage

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—A record rainfall which ended late yesterday, today had flooded rivers and other streams in northern Ohio, claimed the lives of two persons and tied up shipping on the Cuyahoga river.

Richard Stewart 26, and Clara Timbell 30, both of Lorain, were drowned in a ravine at South Lorain. Their automobile had stalled in water which covered Clinton Avenue and they got out in an attempt to reach safety. A deep ravine, hidden by the muddy waters, was on one side of the street and into this the couple stepped.

Efforts to resuscitate them when they were taken from the waters, failed, he stated.

Others narrowly escaped drowning at the same point.

While the rainfall was greatest along the shores of Lake Erie, relief to territories all over the state, suffering from a water famine was reported by the weather bureau. The rain, weather bureau officials said, would be of some value to farmers in the maturing of corn, but had come too late to prevent serious damage in some sections.

In Cleveland between midnight Saturday and six o'clock Sunday 2.38 inches of rain fell, E. H. Emery, weather forecaster, stated. This was a greater rainfall than in 41 days preceding, he stated.

The Rev. E. Ernest Johnson, who heads the research committee which prepared the report, said that the study was undertaken "because the air is so filled with contradictory assertions relative to the results of prohibition that this momentous issue seems in danger of being decided on the basis of partisanship and prejudice rather than of intelligence."

The prohibition unit of the treasury department was criticized in the report for its methods of issuing prohibition propaganda.

"Prohibition publicity has suffered much," said the report, "from careless and unwarranted inferences which lead social scientists, economists, actuaries and business statisticians to regard with distrust, if not with contempt, reports that are given out with a view to fostering opinion favorable to prohibition. Much of the publicity given out by the prohibition unit of the treasury department has been of this unfortunate kind. On the other hand, much unjust and misleading propaganda has been put out for the purpose of discrediting prohibition."

Centre Ossipee, N. H., Sept. 14.—Half of the 400 inhabitants of this little village at the foothills of the White Mountains today were digging their belongings from the wreckage of their homes, laid flat by a terrific storm with wind of hurricane force.

The top story of the Excelsior mill of the Carroll County Land and Lumber Company, was blown off. The home of Eldridge was turned on its roof. Half the house of Mrs. Addie Bean was lopped off. Other houses had roofs ripped off and chimneys down. In a path nearly a mile wide, trees were leveled with the ground. Not a death or injury was reported.

London, Sept. 14.—More than three thousand Chinese have been drowned by floods in the Shantung province, where broken dykes released the high waters of the Yellow river, according to Central News dispatches received today from Tien Tsin.

Hundreds of villages have been swept by the flood waters, which reached fifty miles back from the river's normal course.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 14.—Harry A. Friedricks, 48, city fireman, stepped from his truck at a garage fire Sunday, and dropped dead. Heart disease was the cause.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The government's "family fight" to determine the amount of money to be spent in the year ending June 30, 1927, was officially started today when the bureau of the budget opened appropriation hearings. Budget Director H. M. Lord with a struggle hold on the treasury's purse strings, is striving to keep official expenses as close to $3,000,000,000 as humanly possible.

With estimated receipts of about $3,200,000,000, depending upon the slash taken at revenues in the coming congress, an accomplishment of a $3,000,000,000 dollar expenditure year will yield the government a neat surplus and pave the way for further tax cutting.

The battle between the budget bureau and the war and navy departments—waged every year since the armistice was signed—is the most bitterly contested of the set-to's in the annual assault on the treasury by government departments.

Lord has announced he wants to keep the combined army and navy appropriation under $600,000,000 divided equally between the two departments. The military arms of the government contend that if such an economy policy is followed out, the national defense will be inadequate for the nation's protection and that many important functions of both departments must be abandoned.

For the year ending last July, the war department spent about $348,000,000, and the navy cost $332,249,000. In giving congress his views on national defense for the 1926 budget, President Coolidge asked that the appropriation be limited to $549,000,000. Budget officials expressed the opinion that the national defense item should be held within the $500,000,000 mark in the 1927 budget. The figure does not include non military expenditures of the war and navy departments.

Preliminary estimates of the cost of various departments must be in the hands of Lord by Tuesday. In cases where the bureau has cut down the amounts originally demanded, department experts will be given a hearing.

Special budget committees will hear the pleas of department heads and make their recommendations to Lord. Lord will submit his final budget report to the president in November and the budget message will go to congress at its opening in December.

Among the important budget items this year will be a move on the part of the treasury to create a permanent rum patrol to guard the coast line against liquor smugglers. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has already made a personal inspection of rum row and has sanctioned the move as the only means of checking smuggling permanently. The prohibition appropriation likewise, is awaited with considerable interest. For the 1926 year it was about $10,000,000.

The budget will attempt to prevent any material extension of the government's activities in order that subsequent cutting of costs may be reflected in tax reductions.

Some officials, however, hold that much of the cost slashing is petty economy and that the government and general public are losing money in the long run.

They insist that there are many fields of endeavor, including investigations of business conditions, foreign trade conditions, new inventions military and naval surveys and scientific studies which, while costing considerable money, would increase national wealth.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The Federal Council of Churches today began the publication of a thirty thousand word report on the "social consequences of prohibition in the United States, including the moral and political aspects of the problem as well as its economic and industrial phases."

The first section of the report declared that the country is now witnessing the "supreme testing" of prohibition and that "no one can say with positiveness what the ultimate outcome of this test will be."

"Cocksure criticism," said the report, "is not warranted, nor is pessimism or defeatism justified by the facts. Much seems to depend upon the development of public opinion in the near future."

PEACE FOR CHINA ON ITS WAY GENERAL HSU STATES; ANARCHY ONLY LOCAL DISTURBANCE

London, Sept. 8.—The Chinese are engaged for five weeks, will then proceed to the United States.

Hsu's chief complaint against England was that he and his men were unable to begin their day's work before 8 o'clock in the morning. Late rising is one of the several bad habits of the English, he thought.

EARLY TO BED, RISE EARLY

"In olden times," he said, "we were taught to rise early. Our ancient kings, philosophers and teachers urged it upon us. I think that a man should get up with the sun and go to bed at dusk.

"Our cabinet meetings used to be held before daybreak. In these days our cabinet meets as late as eleven in the morning even sometime at midday—but that is only since the republican regime, and I think it is a pity."

Unfortunately Hsu is unable to continue his practice of early rising in London, because there is "nothing to do except read at the beginning of the day in London."

HOPES FOR UNITY

"In olden times the people had nothing to do with government which was the business of emperors and officials. Nowadays the people are interested in politics. It is a pity that they are not educated to the idea of unity.

"I believe in better days to come, because during the last fourteen years our unhappy experiences have at any rate shown that the misguided policies and misguided ideals have fallen to the ground."

Present day anarchy in China is confined to local disturbances, Hsu said. Trade is normal except in the local areas of civil disturbances. Present troubles, he charged, were the work of petty politicians and a handful of militarists.

FIVE ARRESTED IN SUNDAY NIGHT RAID; ALL ARE GIVEN FINES

Five arrests and a like number of convictions in Probate Court Monday morning on charges of intoxication, were the result of a raid led by Chief Deputy Sheriff John Baughn on a dance hall in Bath Township operated by Ralph Tippy, of near Osborn, late Sunday night.

Peter Hirsch, Robert Blake, Mrs. Robert Blake, and Mabel Johnson, all of Dayton, and Ralph Tippy, were each fined $25 and costs by Probate Judge S. C. Wright when they entered pleas of guilty to charges of drunk. Tippy entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of operating a public dance hall without a permit and his trial was set for September 18. A second charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated was placed against Robert Blake and his trial set for September 18 in Probate Court when he pleaded not guilty.

The raiding party included Chief Deputy Sheriff Baughn, assisted by Deputy Sheriff George Spencer and Sidney Cornelius, constable of Bath Township.

The arrest of Tippy for operating a dance hall without a permit was the first to be made in Greene County under a new state law which became effective several months ago giving only Probate Judges of each County authority to issue dancing permits.

California Beauty Crowned

Fay Lamphier, as "Miss California," carries back to the golden west the crown of the nation's prettiest girl, won at Atlantic City in competition with representative beauties from all parts of the country. Adrienne Dore, "Miss Los Angeles," was second. The decision evidences that the slender Venus of the past decade is no longer in style, in the opinion of the judges.

HOBBIES OF THE GREAT AND NEAR GREAT AS TOLD BY NEWS WRITER

Editor's Note—This is the thirty-fourth of a series of intimate sketches which reveal the national political figure as a "brother under the skin" to the man behind the plow, the white collar worker or the day laborer. Others will follow.

SENATOR BURTON K. WHEELER

Although Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D. of Mont.) was swept to the crest of national prominence by his ability as a "prosecutor," that role is his pet aversion.

While his conduct of the Senatorial investigation of the Department of Justice won him national recognition and a Vice-Presidential nomination, Wheeler actually dislikes that type of work. He gets his greatest delight from the other side of the legal fence—the role of an attorney for the defense.

This is one of the many contrasts in the private life of Senator Wheeler. He is famed for his activities in a Senate committee room, yet he loves to roam the great outdoors. He is noted as a prosecutor, and yet he thrills to being on the defense. This desire is a hobby with him, and before he came to Washington he was known throughout Montana as one of that State's greatest trial lawyers.

HAS SIX CHILDREN

The Senator has six other hobbies. They are Edward, Richard, Frances, Elizabeth, John and the infant Wheeler. They are the "Wheeler tribe" to him, and upon them he bestows a world of affection. Playing with his children is one of the Senator's chief recreations. He takes them on long motor rides; he fishes with the elder sons; he even puts on the boxing gloves with the boys.

It is whispered around the Wheeler home here that on one occasion the man who battled the Department of Justice almost single-handed, picked out too much opposition. That experience came when he boxed, simultaneously, with three of the Wheeler boys.

"My eldest son," the Senator told a friend, "can handle himself pretty well, and once, when the three elder boys got after me, they gave me a real tussle."

An eye-witness even said the verdict would have gone to the boys.

LIVES IN CABIN

The Senator's best-loved sport is fishing. In the Summer the Wheelers maintain a log cabin in Glacier National Park, Montana. The Senator and his boys roam the hills, following old Indian trails and fishing in secluded mountain lakes.

"I love to fish in these mountain lakes," says the Senator. "I like to pack a camping outfit on my back."

ANTIOCH GLEN WILL BE GAME PRESERVE; STATE LEASES LAND

Antioch Glen, near Yellow Springs, property of Antioch College, has been made a state game preserve, leased to the state for five years, for this purpose, according to an announcement from the college authorities, Monday.

K. L. Keller, district game warden, has expressed the opinion that this beautiful tract will make a fine game preserve. The glen abounds in natural beauty and adjoins the Bryan Farm property of the state, which was willed to the state by John Bryan to be used as a game preserve.

Antioch Glen was formerly known as Neff Park and has been the scene of picnic parties and other outdoor gatherings for years. The dance hall in the glen will be operated by the college, as previously, and the preserve will be open for other affairs, with the consent of the owners, it is said.

The three-day meeting will open Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock with many forms of entertainment featuring the initial session.

Delegates will first pay a visit to the Miami Valley Golf Club where they will be the guests of O. B. Reemelin, president of the Dayton Club. Following will be airplane rides at the Johnson flying field, a tour of the National Cash Register Company plant and a dinner at the plant as the guests of Frederick B. Patterson, president.

Westminster Choir, the nation's leading choir, will furnish the entertainment at the N. C. R. schoolhouse in the evening, following an address of welcome to be delivered by Col. F. C. Runkle. The Tuesday evening program will also be featured by a talk by Opie Reed, well known author and lecturer, who will speak on the subject, "Human Nature and Politics."

The conference will formally open Wednesday afternoon with separate meetings of trustees, secretaries, presidents and district committees scheduled to be held.

A luncheon will be given at the Miami Hotel ballroom Wednesday noon followed by a twenty-minute address given by James A. DeVine, chairman of the committee for adoption of constitutional amendments. An inspection tour of McCook Field has been arranged in the afternoon, which includes an aerial circus.

Wednesday night the governor's informal dinner and ball is scheduled to be held at Memorial Hall with Lieut. Gov. Howard S. Smith presiding. The principal address will be delivered by Charles F. Kettering, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation, followed by a dance at the Greystone. Entertainment and conferences will feature the closing session Thursday.

The Old Town Ladies Aid Society will meet at the church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, fast time.

The Cincinnati Pike paving assured to start this year.

Guaranteed the amount of state aid petitioned for, County Commissioners announce the much discussed work of remodeling the Cincinnati pike will probably get under way late this year.

State funds amounting to $116,000 have been set aside by the state highway department it is announced. The county and property holders along the pike will bear half the expense and work of remodeling the pike into a hard surface road is expected to cost approximately $230,000.

Petitions containing names of thirty property holders adjacent to the pike asking that the improvement project be carried out as soon as possible, have been received by Commissioners. This is more than double the required number.

The pike will probably be macadamized as this type of road is most favored by the land owners, it is said. First attempts of commissioners in 1924 to obtain sanction of the property holders to remodel the road were unsuccessful as a majority objected to the high assessment. With the recent passage of a state law reducing the land owners' assessment from ten per cent to five per cent, the hearty support of the land owners was assured.

The pike will be remodeled from the Xenia corporation line to the Warren County line, a distance of nine miles. When this project is completed, Xenia will have hard surface roads leading in all directions from the city.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Seeks the New And Finds the Newest By JAY V. JAY

Mitzi believes in seeking new fashions for she knows that they can always be found. There will be more intensive shopping this week for Mitzi must know all about the new fall fashions. Today, the calendar reminds her to look for new shoes and pocket books.

Being more efficient in shopping than anything else Mitzi lets her seventh or eighth sense guide her straight to the new balloon bags, quite a contrast to the flat pocket book that everybody has been tucking under the arms. The balloon bags are made of brilliant colored morocco leather.

The flat pocketbook in the preceding picture is trimmed with lizard skin. The slippers with the spike heel of patent leather are trimmed with lizard skin so that the pocket book and slippers make an ensemble. The slipper with the buckle effect is new, too. It's called a step in pump—with an elastic inset. The other shoe (in the hand of the salesman) has a strap that fits into a band before it buttons. The newest pocketbook is made of velvet and embroidered in the manner of the futuristic art. Mitzi has but to seek the new and she finds the newest.

GIVE YOUR CLOTHES A REST.

THE weary waistcoat and the tired trousers—these are not fancies of the imagination but cold realities. You wouldn't make your horse go day after day without a rest or run your car without giving the engine a chance to cool off. And in just the same way your clothes have an occasional vacation coming to them once in a while if you want to get the most wear out of them.

It is known that even steel, when constantly used, gets what engineers call "metal fatigue." Wool is no exception. The sturdiest wool fibers become flattened and pressed out of shape by continuous use. Their strength returns, if they are allowed to rest up a bit.

Fortunately you do not have to send fatigued suits to the seaside, or mountains to recover their vigor. A nice, dark closet and well-fitting hanger make an ideal vacation for their jaded nerves. What you do need, though, is enough suits to keep them from getting too tired out. Two suits worn alternately wear considerably longer than three suits purchased one at a time and each worn continuously every day until worn out.

What is true of suits is equally true of shoes. Besides the greater economy of having two or three pairs of everyday shoes going at once, the man who has to stand or walk a great deal will find it much easier on his feet to have a Monday-Wednesday-Friday pair to alternate with his Tuesday-Thursday-Saturday brogues.

THOSE WHITE CROSSES.

It will never be possible to even approximately estimate the good that has come through the carrying out of Governor Donahey's suggestion that a white cross be erected along Ohio highways at every spot where a life has been lost as a result of an automobile accident.

In whatever direction from the City of Middletown motorists may drive they see these crosses dotted along the roadside, at railroad crossings, at sharp curves in the road, at an embankment, or sometimes along an innocent-appearing stretch of straight road.

And always that token of tragedy registers to some degree in the mind of the driver and the other occupants of the car—what has happened once may happen again and in many instances day after day the silent message of the white cross may exert a restraining influence on the driver who sometimes loses sight of the fact that excessive speed means unnecessary risk.

Carelessness in some form is so large a factor in making for automobile accidents that it seems necessary for many drivers to have an almost constant reminder of the dangers which attend automobiling and, coupled with the other warning signs at grade crossings, at curves and at steep grades, it is doubtful if any better idea could have been worked out, for the present season at least, than that of the white crosses at the roadside.

AVOIDING THE EXTREME.

THE extremist is never with a large following. There are two extremes in all things, but the multitude will always be found half way between the two. In such a humble occupation as housekeeping there are the two extremes and the happy medium. The housekeeper who is excessively tidy and immaculate fails as completely in her purpose as does the slovenly housewife. The good housekeeper, who is not without honor even in her own country, is the one who follows the middle course between the slattern and the eternal dust-chaser.

Everyone knows that an untidy house is the cause of all sorts of wrong living on the part of husbands, wives and children. And yet household tidiness can be carried to excess. A home that is neat, and clean, and tastefully arranged is one thing, but a house where everything is so prim that the members of the family and callers feel ill at ease is quite another thing.

It often happens that women who strive to be good housekeepers forget about the comfort and contentment of the family. Collecting all sorts of odds and ends that seem valueless to mother or father is a trait of all normal children. The bits of colored glass or the magazine clippings, or the broken toys that an over-zealous mother may destroy may cause many unhappy pangs to the child. Likewise, father's old pipe, or the disreputable pair of fishing shoes have a value to him far above mere household tidiness.

After all, the only purpose of household tidiness is to make the home comfortable to the family and presentable to visitors.

Turn the mixture into a buttered angel cake pan and bake 41 to 50 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve covered with a boiled frosting. Or you may make the batter for a slightly shorter period in shallow cake pans and put between the two layers, and on top, a boiled white frosting to which you have added one-half cup of chopped seedless raisins.

Liver en Casserole: Buy two pounds of liver cut in small pieces. Wash it and let it stand for five minutes covered with boiling water; pour drain off this water and dredge the liver-cubes thickly with flour. Fry in bacon fat till nicely browned, and transfer to a baking dish. Add one cup of diced uncooked celery, one cup of peas, one cup of diced uncooked carrot, three tablespoons of minced raw onion, and salt and pepper to season well. Wet the mixture with three cups of boiling water, stir all together, then slip the dish into a moderate oven to bake for one hour, covered. Serve hot.

ONE'S OWN LIFE

Most of us live frightened lives. Even after the nurse has wrapped us up tenderly in the soft materials that warm us after birth, there hovers about the very crib in which we have been laid a certain fear of which at that time, we are all too unconscious to know anything about.

But as we grow and take on strength and our mind begins to wake we see the unfairness of all this fear and sometimes we run away from our surroundings, hoping to find some spot where we may rest and think, and then start all over again as ourselves.

we may do or become.

No one feels it his duty to pull burned chestnuts out of the fire.

Our own point of view must make most of our decisions. We are not supposed to falter when all about us grows dark and full of mystery. We must think and be strong. We must not show the white feather. We must be master.

None other than brave men pass up precedent and the established order the sentence of life—and serve their term without complaint.

THE RUINED SLEEVE

Not a dress that's fit to wear!
Would you now believe
Every garment, plain or fair,
Has one ruined sleeve?

See this lovely thing of silk,
One sleeve isn't soiled,
But the other, stained with milk,
Is forever spoiled.
Always it's the self-same sleeve
Which is robbed of charm,
Showing stains small fingers leave
On a mother's arm.

Every mother in the town

To such loss submits,
You can tell from every gown
Where the baby sits.

There the sleeve becomes,
Just a playground day and night
For sticky little thumbs.

Sadly must they grieve
Who have never had a dress
With one ruined sleeve.

New Masonic Temple Climaxes Long Lodge History

Order Acquires Beautiful Old Roberts Villa—To Build Annex On Property—Four Lodges Of Order Here Co-operate With Temple Association

Action of the Masonic Temple Association in acquiring the picturesque Roberts Villa, Corwin Avenue, as the new home of the Masonic bodies, is meeting with enthusiastic approval of Masons.

Masons vacated their former home in the Steele Building recently and established temporary headquarters in the Villa.

The Villa itself, is one of the most palatial structures in the county and when completed for permanent occupancy, is expected to be one of the best temples in the state representing an investment of approximately association: George Little, president; Dr. A. C. Messenger, vice president; A. E. Faulkner, treasurer; M. C. Smith, secretary; E. S. Foust, P. H. Flynn and Jacob Kany.

The development and spread of various kinds of fraternal and benevolent organizations is undoubtedly one of the signs of world progress, and the history of Masonry in Xenia is interesting.

The Masonic order is the oldest of the fraternal organizations dating back to the period of King Solomon.

Greene County records show the history of Masonry in Greene County dates back more than 100 years, although there is little doubt but that some of the settlers who were living in the county on the day it was organized in 1803 were members of the order.

While the formal organization of the first lodge in Xenia, occurred, March 6, 1819, the initial steps in its organization were taken some time in December of the preceding year. Xenia Lodge No. 49, F. and A. M., was organized on that date under a dispensation granted by Chester Griswold, then Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio.

Although somewhat meagre the proceedings of the lodge were fairly well preserved and present an interesting study to inquiring Masons who

MASONS HAVE MOVED INTO NEW HOME HERE

The handsome old Roberts Villa, dominating a vast acreage along Church Street, is expected to make a beautiful and comfortable home for Xenia Masons. An annex will be erected adjacent to the villa and the old homestead will be left practically in its present condition. The old structure is said to lend itself admirably to purposes of the lodge.

revival of interest. The lodges of Jamestown, Yellow Springs, New Burlington and Cedarville were at first largely composed of members of Xenia Lodge.

Other branches of Masonry have been established in Xenia, all of which owe their existence to the parent lodge. Many members of the Xenia Lodge have won public recognition. Its sons have been in the Ohio General Assembly, in the halls of congress and on the judicial bench, and the farm and business world have also been enriched from this source.

The lodge had its quarters in the Steele Building since late in 1896.

Xenia Chapter No. 36, Royal Arch Masons, was chartered September 29, 1848. Organization of the chapter was effected two years after the lodge resumed labor because of the Anti-Masonic movement. It has a present membership of 213.

Wright Council, No. 96, Royal and Select Masters, was first known as No. 53, chartered October 29, 1867. Following the destructive fire in 1882, the lodge surrendered its charter and it was not until 1906, that the Xenia Masons again established

This lodge has a present membership of 165. The membership of Xenia Lodge No. 49, Free and Accepted Masons, totals 490, or an aggregate of 838. Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of Eastern Star is the fourth lodge body, which will also have headquarters in the new Masonic Temple. This chapter was instituted February

HIGHLAND COUNTY FARMER WINNER OF RECORD ON PORKERS

By producing nearly two and a quarter tons of pork from one litter of hogs in six months, George Evans, Highland County farmer, has established a world's record in pork production. Three of the litter were hand-fed until weaning time.

The litter of 14 purebred Poland-China pigs was farrowed March 1 and all the pigs were ear-marked soon after birth to insure identification. Representatives of the Ohio State University with whom Mr. Evans has been co-operating for the past three years to produce ton litters and so win membership in the Ohio Ton-Litter Club, weighed this litter Sept. 1, the end of the six months. The 14 pigs tipped the scales at 4409 pounds, an average of 314.9 pounds extension specialists point out, is more than 100 pounds above the record established by a Texas farmer who last year, in co-operation with the Texas state college of agriculture, raised a litter of 14 purebred Poland-China hogs to a weight of 4,291 pounds in six months.

This is the fourth ton-litter Mr. Evans has raised in three years. Two years ago he established an Ohio record by raising a litter of 10 Poland-Chinas to 2970 pounds in 180 days from birth. One of these pigs was the dam of the 1925 litter. He also has to his credit a ton-litter produced with only eight pigs in the litter. This year's litter qualifies him for membership in the Ohio Ton-Litter Club for the third successive year.

At four months of age the litter weighed 2322 pounds and had cost in feed including a $20 charge for carrying the sow, $131.80. For the entire six months the feed cost was $253.80. Mr. Evans sold the litter on the market last week at 15 cents a pound, thus clearing about $275 above feed costs, but not including labor and investment costs.

POLICE COURT

Four motorists were arrested over the week-end by Motorcycle Police man Peter Sharrin and given fine by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court for violations of the city speed laws. The offending motorists, S. J. McClure, H. S. Brown, A. Cristin, and Margaret Frye, were each fined $5 and costs for breaking the speed ordinance. They were arrested on Home Avenue and East Main Street.

CHILDREN HURT WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO WHEN CROSSING STREET; DRIVER IS EXONERATED

Nellie Jeffries, six year old daughter of Mrs. Fred Randall, Center Street, was painfully injured when struck by the machine owned and driven by Marvin Ringer, this city, in front of her home Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Her cousin, Clara Bell Terrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Terrell was also injured and two other Terrell children escaped unhurt in the accident.

The four children were crossing the street in front of the Jeffries' home, and stepped out of the way of one machine, but directly in the path of the Ringer auto, coming in the opposite direction.

An artery was cut in the Jeffries child's head and a large amount of hair torn away. She was painfully bruised over her body. The Terrell girl received a flesh wound on her arm and bruises. The Jeffries child was given attention by Dr. A. C. Messenger and the Terrell girl was taken to the McClellan Hospital, where the extent of her injuries was determined.

Ringer was exonerated from blame in the accident by the police who investigated.

SICK SOIL CLINIC WILL TRAVEL OHIO; WILL VISIT OSBORN

A clinic for sick soils set out Monday, September 14 for a three weeks' tour through western Ohio counties over the lines of the New York Central Railroad. Soils specialists from the Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station will comprise the staff of the clinic.

Equipped with a special laboratory, each of the thirty-eight half-day stops scheduled for the train the specialists will test free of charge all soil samples brought in. They will test each sample for acidity, phosphoric acid, and organic matter content. It will probably take from three to five minutes to run a sample through these tests.

With the sample of soil analyzed, the farmer can then discuss with a soils specialist familiar with that part of Ohio what treatment the soil needs, and what rotation to follow. Movies and lectures will also be on the program at each stop.

Starting at Wapakoneta at 9:15 Monday morning, the train will go to Santa Fe that afternoon and St. Marys that evening; Sept. 15, Bellefontaine, Centon, Dunkirk; Sept. 16, Findlay, Ridgeway; Sept. 17, Bowling Green, Oak Harbor; Sept. 18, Postoria, Carey; Sept. 19, Tiffin, Fremont; Sept. 20, Swanton, Wauseon; Sept. 22, Bryan, West Unity; Sept. 23, Ney, Paulding; Sept. 24, Cecil, Van Wert; Sept. 25, Ohio City, Rockford; Sept. 26, St. Henry, Celina; Sept. 28, Ansonia, Sidney; Sept. 29, Savona, West Alexandria; Sept. 30, Franklin, Middletown; Oct. 1, West Carrollton, Osborn; Oct. 2, Urbana, Catawba; Oct. 3, Springfield, London.

DWARF SUMAC SAID TO BE VALUABLE BY FEDERAL EXPERTS

Dwarf sumac, which grows uncultivated throughout most of Ohio contains a valuable substance known as annin used in tanning leather and is sold as high as $75 per ton when properly harvested, says the federal department of agriculture.

In a bulletin just received at Ohio State University the federal department points out that imported sumac is scarce and brings a high price in this country. Figures from the Department of foreign commerce and navigation show that the United States imports annually more than 5,000,000 worth of vegetable tanning materials.

"Domestic sumac," says the bulletin if properly gathered and cured, can largely substitute for imported and should bring a better price than domestic sumac as now cured. Sumac grows wild and abundantly on uncultivated lands particularly on those lands east of the Mississippi River. Country people, especially the elderly and women and children, can earn good wages by gathering and curing sumac.

"The development of the American sumac industry and the production of bright uniformly and properly cured sumac can be accomplished only through the earnest and whole-hearted cooperation of the extract-makers, merchants, buyers and gatherers. Extract makers and buyers must make very effort to stimulate the proper gathering and cutting by offering better prices and through careful instructions in proper methods of gathering, curing and packing. The gatherers must help by following the directions set forth in this bulletin and by working harmoniously with the buyers."

BRANDT WILL CASE COMES TO TRIAL IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

Many interesting legal questions are expected to arise in the contest over the estate of George Brandt, former Beaver Creek Township farmer, in the court action brought to set aside the will by a large number of relatives, set for trial in Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

When he died nearly a year ago, Brandt, a widower without children, left an estate valued at approximately $25,000 to various friends in Xenia and Beaver Creek Township.

Herman Volkenand and others claiming to be legal heirs brought suit in Common Pleas Court against George Ferguson, executor under the will and those made legatees by Brandt, seeking to contest the will and set aside its provisions.

A jury will be selected from the May term of court. Thirty-six witnesses have been summoned so far by the defense to testify as compared to but five subpoenaed by the plaintiff. The case is made more interesting by the fact a number of the plaintiffs are residents of Germany.

CAUTIOUS HUNTERS ON FIRE DANGERS

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—In the event that there might be some spot in Ohio where there were no rains over the week end, attention of hunters, who will take the field Tuesday, opening day of the fall hunting season, was directed today to a proclamation in which Governor Donahy urges that every possible precaution be observed on account of the unusual fire hazard resulting from the recent drouth.

"Negligence may cause costly losses," declared the governor. "I

THE WORST IS YET TO COME

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY"

BY MACK SAUER

For the benefit of a host of chicken hearted folks who think "Thou Shalt Not Kill" refers to chickens the same as to humans and who are going to buy chickens from G. J. Smith for Sunday dinner, the following suggestions are given:

One of the best ways to stop the clock of the chicken without having the blood on your own hands is to take it down Detroit Street with you Saturday evening and turn it loose at the corner of Detroit and Main. A reckless driver will soon knock it into eternity. It takes real human intelligence to get across the streets these days. And a lot of it.

One Galloway Street lady has a novel way of slaying her chicken. On the day before Sunday she orders a ton of coal. When the load of coal arrives she scatters grains of corn all around on the ground where the coal will be dumped. She then lets the chicken pick up the corn. When the chicken is directly under the rear of the wagon, she hoists a red flannel petticoat from an upstairs window as a signal to the driver, who dumps the entire load of coal on the bird. The coal is then shoveled into the basement and the dead bird taken away to be picked.

Either of the above plans will prove satisfactory in taking the fowl's life. The next thing is to pick the feathers. This is a very simple matter and one which should cause no concern.

The plan I have found most satisfactory is to take a strong wire and fasten the dead bird to a tree. Then procure a pair of wire pliers and with them pick the feathers out one by one. Some have seen fit to tie a strong rope to the feathers and then hitch the rope to a farm tractor, but I see no need for such a plan.

The carving of the turkey is indeed a puzzle. Should there be a demand, we will endeavor to explain fully how to serve at a later date.

RAIN TAKES HONORS IN THIRD GAME OF CITY TITLE SERIES

Old Jupe Plusius Intervened Sunday and prevented a continuation of the city titular baseball series between the Xenia Reserves and Xenia Merchants at Washington Park diamond.

A heavy rainfall drenched the playing field converting the diamond into a sea of mud and forcing abandonment of all thoughts of staging the third game of the championship series which stands even, each nine holding one victory.

The third game of the series will be played next Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

In order to become city champions, either team must win three games out of five. Next Sunday's clash will not end the series but a win for either nine will give the victorious team a big edge on the series.

The Reserves have strengthened their lineup for the important third game by the addition of three new players. Two of the players, Harve Reese, pitcher, and Garrison, third sacker, both of Dayton, are not unfamiliar to local fans. This pair played a leading part in a recent Reserve victory several weeks ago.

Jones, the Merchant's submarine twirler, who easily turned back the Reserves in the opening game of the series, will probably take the mound again Sunday.

BAYLIFFS BEATEN BY RAIN; TO PLAY HOME CITY TRAMPS

A hard downpour of rain soaked the field and prevented the playing of a scheduled baseball game between the Bowersville Bayliffs and Melvin Sunday afternoon at Bowersville.

The Bayliffs do not intend to stay idle and are taking advantage of good weather to practice for the scheduled game with the Home City Tramps of Springfield next Sunday afternoon at Bowersville. The game will start at 2 o'clock, standard time.

The Bayliffs have procured the services of Thurman Wical, former Greene County and star of the Chambersburg team in the Pennsylvania Blue Ridge League, who will probably pitch Sunday, it is announced.

Wical was slated to hurl the Melvin game Sunday.

The Bayliffs defeated the Tramps earlier in the season in a slugging match 11 to 10 and another good game is in prospect next Sunday.

ALLEN ZELL ENTERS MERCERSBERG; FRIENDS PREDICT FURTHER AT HLETIC LAURELS THERE

Xenia football fans will follow the gridiron fortunes of Mercersberg Academy with more than usual interest from now on with the matriculation there of Allen Zell, for three years a grid star at Central High School.

As a preparatory school preparing graduates to enter the big Eastern Universities, Mercersberg has also built up a reputation as an athletic have won prominent positions in the sport world of many of the highest institutions of higher education in the country.

With the emphasis placed on physical development and athletic prowess at Mercersberg, friends of Zell anticipate that his ability in interscholastic sports will carry him to greater heights in his prep school career. He played on Central High football and basketball teams since his sophomore year, earning the reputation of being one of the best athletes ever turned out under the blue and white colors.

In his sophomore year he was a guard on the team that won the southwestern district Class B championship and the Miami University cup for the second successive year. Later he was shifted to the backfield where his crack defensive ability and his uncanny prowess in line smashes and field generalship, won him greater recognition and brought him the team captaincy one year. He also sparkled during these years as guard and center on the basketball team and captained the court team one season.

Attending Mercersburg, Zell is following in the footsteps of his father, Dr. Wilbur Zell, who earned a gridiron reputation at the academy before he entered the University of Toronto, where he further excelled in athletics. Under the capable coaching system at the Pennsylvania academy, friends of Allen Zell predict he will also earn a sports reputation during his term there.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

Michael came home grinning. It was very plain something was on his mind. And something was. But he had resolved not to reveal it to Lilah until later in the evening. He was going to wait until after dinner, when they were snug and cozy by the fireplace in the library; then he was going to "spring it."

Lilah's mind was wholly occupied with the affair of the previous evening.

"The papers were awfully kind to us. Miss Ryan has quite a lengthy write-up in this afternoon's Journal," she said, as they were at the dinner table. She glanced about the huge old

OHIO CHILDREN ARE EXAMINED AT STATE FAIR; GIRL LEADS

Sixty-six boys and girls in 4-H clubs from fifty-one counties received complete physical examinations at the Ohio State Fair last week, officers of the state department of health reported.

Irene Wolf, of Coshocton County, received the highest score. Miss Wolfe is 15 years old and her score was 93.336 of a possible 100. The highest scoring boy was Walter Bailey of Athens County. He is 16 years old and his score was 92.226.

Robert Rector, 10 years old, of Pickaway County was the second highest boy scoring 93.179 and Freda Shock, 12 years old of Montgomery County scored 92.225 and was the second highest scoring girl. Third place was taken by Allene Riddle of Columbiana County and Robert Weller of Montgomery County.

This physical examination was conducted for the first time this year following a decision of the state leaders of the 4-H Club at Ohio State University to encourage better health among the boys and girls' club members of the state. Doctors of the state department of health did the examining. The report of Dr. G. R. C. Leland of the department shows that of the 6 persons examined, 22 were boys and 44 were girls.

When the records have been completely summarized a letter will be sent to the parents of each boy and girl stating the score and explaining the physical defects in detail so that it may be a guide to better health, Dr. Leland says.

Club officials say that the examinations will be continued at the State Fair next year.
